

I request that the FCC take whatever actions necessary to allow K-LOVE to continue its FM-translator activity in the Raleigh-Durham area. K-LOVE provides a professionally presented contemporary Christian music format that would otherwise be unavailable. It also localizes content to promote concerts and community events appreciated by its audience. The station has averted a number of suicides through its telephone counseling service and directs listeners in need to follow-up community resources. The community would not only lose the diversity of this radio format if the FM- translator service is lost. People at risk would not be connected to the local resources that help them now.
